UNOPPOSED MOTION TO DISMISS PLAINTIFF’S CLAIMS

Plaintiff Britney Walls, as Special Administrator of the Estate of Bradley Blackshire, moves to dismiss her claims in this matter with prejudice with each party bearing their own costs and fees.¹ In support of this motion, Ms. Walls states as follows:

1. The parties have reached an agreement settling this action, which was filed by the family of Bradley Blackshire against Defendants Charles Starks, Michael Simpson, and the City of Little Rock.

2. Bradley was a loving son, brother, and father of five young children. He was known for his warm nature, his contagious smile, and his exceptional empathy for others around him, even as he grappled with his own personal challenges. Importantly, Bradley made it a point to be there for his children. His eldest child was ten years old when Bradley was killed; the next to eldest, his namesake, was eight; his eldest daughter was four; his youngest son was two; and his youngest child, his baby girl, was only one year old. To them, he was “daddy.” Bradley labored to help provide for his family, working in trucking, janitorial work, and construction. He organized birthday parties for his children, brought them to family gatherings, and tried his best to cultivate a supporting, loving community in which they could thrive. The impact of his death on his family, friends, and community is immeasurable.

3. The Blackshire family invites all to join them in envisioning and a realizing a better future for Little Rock.

WHEREFORE, Plaintiff requests that this Court enter an order dismissing her claims against Charles Starks, Michael Simpson and the City of Little Rock, with prejudice.

Respectfully submitted,
