3 1 (Proceedings began at 2:07 p.m.) THE COURT: Good afternoon. 2 3 MR. ANDERSON: Good afternoon, 4 Your Honor. 5 MR. HARCOURT: Good afternoon, Your Honor. 6 7 THE COURT: The matter before 8 the Court this afternoon is in Wilson versus 9 Dunn, 2019, Civil 284, a death penalty case. And 10 this is on the petitioner's request to be appointed -- Professor Harcourt is requesting 11 12 that he be appointed counsel. He also requests disclosure of a letter written by one of 13 Mr. Wilson's co-defendants, and further a status 14 15 I think I have covered everything, conference. Professor. 16 So I want to get right to this issue 17 18 about the letter. You indicate that you can't go forward in this case until you have the letter 19 and know how you're going to move forward. 20 don't understand that. And I say that simply 21 22 because there's no secret about the letter. I mean, quotes from the letter have appeared in the 23 24 police report, in the opinions of the Alabama 25 courts. So why do you need the letter itself,

4 the physical letter itself? 1 MR. HARCOURT: Thank you, Your 2 3 Honor. Let me maybe backtrack just one moment and then respond directly to that question. 4 5 THE COURT: All right. MR. HARCOURT: I was contacted 6 7 by Mr. Palombi and asked whether I would consider 8 representing Mr. Wilson in these federal habeas 9 corpus proceedings. And Mr. Wilson, as you know, had written a letter to the Court and had raised 10 a conflict of interest with his counsel, Anne 11 Borelli from the Federal Defenders office for the 12 Middle District. And Mr. Wilson wrote that 13 Ms. Borelli had not adequately represented him in 14 15 the post-conviction proceedings and that she had not raised certain claims, specifically these 16 questions of innocence, actual innocence, of 17 18 capital murder. And he asked that those be added and -- to the federal petition. And of course so 19 this is a bit of an unusual situation, both for 20 the Court, for Mr. Wilson, and also for any 21 22 attorney who would jump into a case like this at 23 this point --24 THE COURT: Well, it's still 25 pretty early in this case. It's not like this case has been going on for a while.

                 MR. HARCOURT:
2
                                 Correct, Your
            Correct. But it is a little bit unusual
3
    Honor.
    to have a situation like this where a petitioner
4
5
    is raising questions of conflict of interest and about claims of actual innocence. And I begin -- 6
7
                  THE COURT: Let me interrupt
    you, if I may.
8
9
                 MR. HARCOURT:
                                 Excuse me?
10
                  THE COURT: Let me interrupt
11
    you, if I may.
12
                 MR. HARCOURT:
                                 Yes, sir, Your 13
    Honor.
                  THE COURT: You have described
14
15
    this as a conflict of interest. But what you 16
    said in support of that simply indicates that 17
    there's a disagreement between Mr. Wilson and
    Ms. Borelli.
                  That's not a conflict.
18
                                           It may be a reason for Mr. Wilson to ask for a new counsel.
19
20
    So --
                 MR. HARCOURT:
21
                                 Correct.
                  THE COURT: -- is there a 22
23
    conflict of interest as we would typically think 24
    about that, or is it just a disagreement?
25
                 MR. HARCOURT: Well, now that

6 Mr. Wilson has raised the disagreement, I believe 1 that it would present a conflict of interest for 2 the attorney, Anne Borelli, or for the office of 3 the Middle District to continue to represent 4 5 Mr. Wilson. THE COURT: 6 Why? 7 MR. HARCOURT: Well, because 8 there are issues of whether the attorneys in the 9 state post conviction properly, adequately 10 represented Mr. Wilson on these questions of the actual innocence, the disclosure of the letter --11 THE COURT: Did the Federal 12 13 Defenders office represent Mr. Wilson in the state court post-conviction proceedings? 14 15 MR. HARCOURT: According to the -- according to the pleadings that were filed 16 and I believe according to your order dated from 17 18 August, Ms. Borelli was involved in the state post-conviction proceedings. 19 THE COURT: We don't have a 20 21 state court record yet. So, Mr. Palombi, can you shed light 22 23 on that? 24 MR. PALOMBI: Your Honor, what I 25 -- I was not involved in Mr. Wilson's case

7 substantively. I should put on the record that I 1 did represent Mr. Wilson for purposes of 2 challenging method of execution, but that was 3 unrelated to this case. Ms. Borelli did not 4 5 enter an appearance in state court. She assisted the volunteer lawyer who did represent Mr. Wilson 6 7 in state court, but there is no appearance from a 8 federal defender attorney anywhere during the 9 state court proceedings. However, she did So that's the extent of it. 10 Ms. Borelli brought that up in her motion after 11 Mr. Wilson wrote his letter. When she did the 12 13 motion to stay pending appointment of new counsel, she brought that up in that motion as 14 15 well that there may be a conflict because she assisted the post-conviction counsel that 16 Mr. Wilson is alleging were also ineffective and 17 18 thus potentially implicating Martinez (phonetic). 19 THE COURT: That's not much of a Not in the traditional sense that I 20 conflict. think of a conflict. It simply sounds like it's 21 22 a disagreement between Mr. Wilson and 23 Ms. Borelli. Which, again, doesn't necessarily, 24 it seems to me, mean that the Federal Defenders 25 office couldn't represent Mr. Wilson.

8 1 MR. HARCOURT: Well, I was providing this as background to respond to your 2 3 original question. THE COURT: I understand. 4 5 MR. HARCOURT: But if you would like, we could take that other question on board 6 7 as well. I was provided that as background --8 THE COURT: Well, you have asked 9 to be appointed as counsel in this case. And I would assume because we don't have the state 10 court record -- and I, frankly, did not look at 11 12 Ms. Borelli's papers that she filed. I just 13 assumed that there was a conflict. That's shame 14 on me. 15 MR. HARCOURT: Well, I think --But you're asking to 16 THE COURT: be appointed under the Criminal Justice Act, and 17 18 we're always loathed, frankly, to do that when the federal defender can represent a petitioner 19 20 without the expenditure of additional federal 21 funds. 22 MR. HARCOURT: So to come back 23 for a moment to the original question, which has 24 to do with the disclosure of the Kitty Corley 25 (phonetic) letter. So as I was asked to -- or to consider intervening in the case and taking on 1 the case, I started to review the pleadings, the 2 federal habeas corpus petition and the state 3 court opinions, and I immediately realized that 4 there's a threshold issue in this case that would 5 prevent or make hesitant a careful attorney from 6 7 entering an appearance in this case. And when I 8 say careful, I mean an attorney that does not 9 wish to be in any way ineffective or to engage in 10 malpractice. And that threshold question is somewhat minuscurial. It's almost just a 11 question of supplementing the record when 12 reviewing this case. And that threshold matter 13 is precisely the question of the fact that the 14 15 Kitty Corley letter, the co-defendant's confession, has never been turned over to 16 Mr. Wilson. And so it makes it -- it makes it 17 18 somewhat difficult to get a sense of this case when one of the -- probably the most important 19 pieces of exculpatory evidence was not turned 20 21 over. 22 THE COURT: That's where -- and 23 I know you probably don't like to be interrupted, 24 but I get to do that. That's where I fail to 25 understand. There's no secret about the letter.

10

There's no secret about the confession, if you will. There's no secret that she says she hit him with a baseball bat. So why do you need the letter? You know what it says.

MR. HARCOURT: Well, Your Honor, we have one short five sentence indication of what it says. According to the Court of Criminal Appeals, there's information in that letter that only a person who would have committed the murder would be aware of. And it's pretty patently clear that it's a violation of Brady not to have that disclosed to Mr. Wilson at this point, which is now seven or eight or 10 years after the -- or 13 years after the crime. There's an ongoing obligation on the part of the State -- ongoing goes through federal habeas corpus -- to turn over exculpatory material. And it seems as kind of a preliminary threshold a flagrant issue here not to actually have the letter. I think it -as I pointed out in the -- in the reply, which I of course incorporate by reference here, the issue is so clear as a legal matter that you wouldn't -- that the state defender wouldn't be entitled to qualified immunity on this. This letter has been requested. This was a motion for 11 There is right now. 1 it in the state court. This is -- this is a motion -- one doesn't even need 2 to make a motion for this material to have to be 3 turned over. 4 Well, let's back up. 5 THE COURT: 6 MR. HARCOURT: Yes. Yes, your 7 Honor. 8 THE COURT: We have an opinion 9 by state court that rejects the Brady claim. Ιf I understand it, it rejects the Brady claim on 10 the basis of the police report mentioned the 11 letter, and therefore counsel for Mr. Wilson had 12 within his knowledge the ability to know about 13 and then therefore obtain the letter. The cases 14 15 that you cite in support of the ongoing 16 obligation -- and, by the way, I think you're right in the sense this obviously was exculpatory 17 18 material which should have been turned over. the cases that you cite, it's not up to counsel 19 for Mr. Wilson to hunt and seek, in all of those 20 cases that I have read -- and I haven't read 21 22 every case in existence -- seem to indicate that 23 that posture of the case was ones in which the 24 prosecution had said, You've got everything, 25 we've got an open file, there's no other

12 1 material. And I don't know what the situation here is about that. Did the prosecution say, 2 3 We've given you-all of the information? I don't think we know. 4 5 MR. HARCOURT: Right. So my understanding is that there is an open file 6 7 discovery in capital cases in the state of 8 Alabama. 9 THE COURT: That's a fact I'm 10 not sure that we can necessarily assume. 11 MR. HARCOURT: Okay. There was a motion by trial counsel for all exculpatory 12 13 material under Brady. What is clear is that -and it's unclear what trial counsel had. 14 There's 15 never been an evidentiary determination of these 16 questions in the sense that there was a request for discovery and in state court and in Rule 32 17 18 and that there was a specific request for this 19 letter. And there was oral argument -- if I 20 understand correctly, there was oral argument in front of the state circuit court judge regarding 21 these questions. And I believe David Schoen, who 22 23 was representing Mr. Wilson at the time, stated 24 on the record that there needs to be factual development as to what was turned over to the --

13 1 I mean, we are certain that the letter has never been turned over, but there needs to be factual 2 3 development as to what was turned over, what wasn't turned over. That wasn't accomplished in 4 5 Rule 32. What is clear is that this letter 6 7 has never been turned over. It's been requested 8 on multiple occasions, I believe. Certainly is 9 on the table right now. There's a request for it right now. And I don't think that under very 10 well-established federal institutional law that 11 12 that letter cannot be immediately turned over to 13 Mr. Wilson. In other words, there's a Brady violation that's going on this minute, and one 14 15 minute ago, and -- and that --But this Court is 16 THE COURT: 17 staring in the face of a state court appellate 18 conclusion that there was no Brady violation. Now, you've got to get past that (unintelligible) 19 20 problem. 21 MR. HARCOURT: Yes, Your Honor. 22 THE COURT: And how does having 23 the letter help you do that? 24 MR. HARCOURT: So you're correct 25 that the ruling of the Court of Criminal Appeals

14 in final state court opinion on page nine of 1 their written opinion dismissing the Rule 32 2 petition says that it's procedurally barred 3 because it could have or should have been raised 4 5 by trial or appellate counsel --THE COURT: And it could have 6 7 conclusion that --8 MR. HARCOURT: Well, so there 9 are a couple of responses there. First of all, it's -- I would argue that -- I mean, I don't 10 think this is the -- necessarily the time to 11 address the merits of these claims. But I would 12 argue first that that is an unreasonable 13 conclusion because there's no indication that the 14 15 State was willing to turn over the favorable 16 evidence at any point before. And certainly we have an indication that the State is not willing 17 18 to turn it over even now. So the idea that it could have been turned over or could have been 19 20 raised is wrong as a matter of law and fact, I would argue. 21 But even if we assume that the Court 22 23 of Criminal Appeals is correct on that question, 24 the state procedural default -- of course that 25 raises a federal question of whether there's 15 cause of prejudice or alternatively -- I would 1 argue in this case -- well, the cause of 2 prejudice would be ineffective assistance of 3 counsel. In other words, if indeed trial 4 counsel -- if it turns out on an evidentiary 5 matter that the trial counsel had information 6 7 that there was -- that the co-defendant had 8 confessed to killing -- to committing the murder 9 in this case, I think it would be ineffective for that attorney not to get ahold of that letter and 10 present that. Particularly at the penalty phase 11 12 of a capital murder case --13 Most likely, but --THE COURT: MR. HARCOURT: And just it would 14 15 also be questions of fundamental mischaracter of 16 justice which is actually the point that Mr. Wilson was raising in his letter --17 18 THE COURT: But I'm still perplexed --19 20 MR. HARCOURT: Yes, sir. THE COURT: -- why you feel the 21 22 need for the physical possession of the letter at 23 this juncture? I will put it that way. You are 24 assuming that the letter contains some other 25 information that would be important.

                              I mean, what could be more important than the co-defendant's confession?

                 MR. HARCOURT:

17 1 nothing in the letter, why are we here 13 years later requesting the letter under Brady -- on a 2 clear Brady claim in order to get a sense of -- I 3 mean, to -- I was asked to review the case. 4 5 start looking into the case, and I -- and essentially it's -- it's also very hard to 6 imagine what kind of work would need to be done 7 8 to reconstitute what was in the letter. For 9 instance --THE COURT: Well, let me ask you 10 this at this point --11 12 MR. HARCOURT: Yes, Your Honor. THE COURT: -- if the Court were 13 to conclude that disclosure of the letter at this 14 15 juncture were not appropriate, do you still want 16 to go forward with representation of Mr. Wilson? Because I will tell you the next steps will be we 17 18 will order the State to file the complete record of the state court proceedings. I would appoint 19 And you would hold a budgeting conference 20 with the death penalty law clerk. And we would 21 move on from there. And you would be -- after 22 23 the state court record is filed, you would be 24 given the opportunity to amend the petition. Ι 25 would hope you would cut it down, all 300 and

		18
1	something pages of it. And it would move forward
2	logically from there in that kind of process.
3	MR. HARCOURT: SO
4	THE COURT: In other words, it's
5	not going to happen quickly, and you will have
6	plenty of time to consider view of the case and
7	certainly present the Brady claim. Which is in

19	THE COURT: Yes. And on that

21	MR. HARCOURT: Yes, sir.
22	THE COURT: Cat is out of the
23	bag. Why the devil don't you-all just disclose
24	the letter?
25	MR. ANDERSON: Your Honor, one

19 of the things -- first things I want to, as 1 initial matter, note is that in the police report 2 regarding Kitty Corley she has not confessed to 3 committing to murder. She confesses she hit the 4 5 man with a bat until he fell. THE COURT: I know what it said. 6 7 It's a fine point, but I know what it said. 8 MR. ANDERSON: The petitioner is 9 no longer in the position he was in at trial --10 THE COURT: Look, we can argue those fine points of the law. We can argue he's 11 been convicted and it's all -- discovery in a 12 habeas case is different than it is in a regular 13 civil case. But my question still pertains. 14 15 know essentially what the letter says, so why are you-all being so stubborn about disclosure of it? 16 MR. ANDERSON: 17 Because he 18 doesn't have any right to it at this point, Your 19 Honor. 20 THE COURT: When would he have a right to it? 21 22 MR. ANDERSON: Essentially what we're dealing with here at this point is a 23 24 discovery request. There is no Brady violation. 25 My opposing counsel seems very confident --

20 1 THE COURT: Well, if there's no Brady violation, then why don't you want to 2 3 disclose the letter? I mean, look, I tend to take a very practical viewpoint about these 4 5 things. We can get real nice about all the fineries of the law and he's not entitled to this 6 7 because he's already been -- we know what the 8 letter says essentially. 9 MR. ANDERSON: Yes, Your Honor. 10 THE COURT: So why are you hiding it? 11 12 MR. ANDERSON: I am not hiding 13 it. 14 THE COURT: Yes, you are. 15 You're taking a stance that is very common in these cases where something wasn't disclosed 16 17 and nobody knows what it is. Well, heck, we know 18 what it is. So what's wrong with disclosing it? 19 MR. ANDERSON: The State has I 20 believe the right to disclose what a person has a right to and retain what he does not have a right 21 22 to. And I take a very conservative view of the State's obligations. If there's something we're 23 24 obliged to disclose, I will disclose it --25 THE COURT: But would you agree

21 1 that it's exculpatory? No, Your Honor, 2 MR. ANDERSON: 3 we're not. Having seen the letter myself. THE COURT: She hit him with a 4 5 baseball bat. She says that. MR. ANDERSON: I will concede, 6 7 Your Honor, that the police report is the best 8 version of the evidence that Mr. Wilson could 9 And the police report, which was disclosed to trial counsel at the time of trial --10 11 THE COURT: Yes. 12 MR. ANDERSON: -- also a hearsay document -- that is every bit as valuable as the 13 letter is. The letter itself at this point is a 14 15 red herring, Your Honor. The letter, as the Alabama court's ruled, was inadmissible. 16 counsel could not have put it into evidence under 17 18 Alabama law. 19 That's not the point THE COURT: of a Brady violation though. 20 It doesn't have to be admissible to be exculpatory to be a Brady 21 22 violation. 23 MR. ANDERSON: Well, Your Honor, 24 talking about the purpose of what Brady is. 25 11th Circuit has said -- I'm sorry -- the 10th

Circuit before the 11th Circuit said the purpose of Brady is to ensure that the accused will not 2 be denied access to exculpatory evidence known to the government but unknown to him. In this case 4 the State at the time of trial produced this police report which includes a description of the letter. It includes identification of at least two people unassociated with the government who knew the contents of the letter that a diligent petitioner could have interviewed in post 10 conviction, that a diligent defendant could have interviewed prior to trial. The letter itself, in the State's position, is a red herring. it not only -- not only is there no allegation that it would have led to any admissible 16 evidence, I would note also that Kitty Corley is still alive. Kitty Corley was alive during post 18 conviction. Kitty Corley could have been interviewed or sought for an affidavit. All these things that a diligent petitioner could 21 have done were not done. 22 And to impose on the State at this 23 point, at this -- an extraordinary obligation to 24 produce a document that -- if it turns out that 25 the petitioner has a meritorious Brady claim, he

23 might be entitled to in discovery, but he's 1 simply not entitled to just because he wants it 2 3 in making a decision on whether or not to take a 4 case. THE COURT: Well, I agree with 5 you about the latter part. He's not entitled to 6 7 it to decide whether or not he's going to take 8 the case or not. 9 MR. ANDERSON: I mean, Your 10 Honor, I would be happy to provide it to the Court for an in camera review. 11 And if you 12 believe it to be exculpatory, then we can proceed 13 from there. But the State --THE COURT: Well, what if I find 14 15 it to be exculpatory? Would you then disclose 16 it, or do I have an obligation at that point to 17 order you to disclose it? 18 MR. ANDERSON: Well, I think at that point, Your Honor, you could disclose it to 19 the other side. 20 Professor, back to 21 THE COURT: 22 my question. Do you intend to represent 23 Mr. Wilson? 24 MR. HARCOURT: Your Honor, let 25 me -- may I first respond to just a few arguments

24 1 that were made? THE COURT: You can do that 2 3 after you answer my question. MR. HARCOURT: I -- I would be 4 5 willing to take on this case and represent Mr. Wilson, but I would like the record to 6 7 reflect that there is an ongoing Brady violation 8 right now, this moment, in this second. And that 9 I am making the Court aware of that. THE COURT: And I understand 10 your position, and I do understand. And we have 11 a -- and this --12 MR. HARCOURT: And I will do 13 everything in my power to ensure that that Brady 14 15 violation is taken care of as soon as possible. And I would be happy to have in camera review, 16 17 Your Honor. 18 THE COURT: And I will consider 19 that. Now respond. MR. HARCOURT: 20 Yes. In terms of 21 what the diligent person could have done in state post conviction, diligence -- there was due 22 23 diligence. There was perfect due diligence. 24 There's a petition that was filed. There was a 25 motion for this evidence that was filed.

was a perfect argument that there is a Brady 1 violation in this case based on what we know, 2 which I would argue is correct. Now, that 3 petition was then dismissed predominantly for 4 5 failure to meet the pleading requirements of the Alabama courts. So it's predominantly dismissed 6 7 on the Rule 27D, I believe it is, which is the 8 rule requiring specificity in the pleading 9 requirements. So it was -- I believe it was a 230-page or something like that. 10 241-page Rule 32 petition that was not specific 11 or that didn't plead sufficiently enough. 12 13 But in terms of due diligence, absolutely everything was done in state post 14 15 conviction. So there's nothing -- there's 16 nothing new going on here. There's not a request for new evidence. It's not opening up a new can 17 18 of worms. I understand (unintelligible) very well, and you can't do that really. This was all 19 in the process, perfect diligence, requests, and 20 it was denied basically and it was kicked out. 21 22 Effectively, as if there was no state post-23 conviction petition filed because it was 24 dismissed for (unintelligible) and without leave 25 to amend ultimately. And so it's as if there was nothing filed in state court. But I did want to address that question.

I also would want to address the admissibility question. I think that was another issue that was raised. There's absolutely no question in Green versus Georgia that this letter would be admissible in a court of law under Brady. I mean, Green versus Georgia is exactly this case. And it was a situation that in Green versus Georgia that Mr. Green and his co-defendant, Carzell Moore -- were co-defendants, as in this case David Wilson and Ms. Corley, Kitty Corley. Defendant Green tried to introduce a third party and the co-defendant had confessed that Mr. Carzell Moore confessed to doing the killing. Tried to present that litigation. Exactly what would happen here. There was a state rule that precluded evidence under Georgia's hearsay rules. And the Supreme Court was very clear that that is -- that you can't use state admissibility rules when you've got basically a due process violation like that. THE COURT: You know what's interesting about our argument at this juncture?

I think everybody is agreed that this is not the 27 appropriate time to resolve the Brady claim and 1 yet we continue to argue the Brady claim as if it 2 were properly before the Court. I don't think 3 resolution of the claim at this juncture is 4 appropriate. Yes? Go ahead. 5 MR. HARCOURT: The reason -- the 6 7 reason that there is this odd posture -- and 8 you're -- I agree, Your Honor. 9 THE COURT: It would make a great law school question, wouldn't it? 10 11 MR. HARCOURT: Yes. No. And depending on how it can resolve, I think it will 12 13 make for a great Supreme Court decision. other words, there's an -- there's a ticking 14 15 Brady violation going on right now --16 THE COURT: I understand. Ι 17 understand what you're saying. 18 MR. HARCOURT: So that's why I am kind of coming back to the Brady claim, 19 because every moment going forward is part of 20 an -- is a part of a Brady violation for which 21 state agents would be in some sense liable for a 22 23 violation of civil rights. So that's why for 24 some odd reason I keep on coming back to that. 25 THE COURT: I understand.

28 1 understand your position. But here's my position. No court worth its salt likes to rule 2 3 in a vacuum. We don't know what the letter says. I also don't know what happened in the state 4 5 courts other that reading the state court opinions. We don't have the record. I don't 6 7 have the trial transcript. I don't have any of 8 the materials from the state court. And until 9 that vacuum is resolved, I'm not comfortable doing anything with regard to your position about 10 the letter. After the transcript and the other 11 12 documents, the state court proceedings, are filed 13 and we all have a chance to review them, then the Court will be in a better position to determine, 14 even on a preliminary basis, the question about 15 16 the letter. Context matters. You look at the 17 Supreme Court cases, they talk about that. 18 context matters. I don't have a context here that I feel is reliable. So if that sort of 19 20 tells you where I'm going to go, you're right. I'm still aggravated with the State's position, 21 22 to be blunt. Just as a matter 23 MR. HARCOURT: 24 of legal procedure, to be clear on the record, that I do -- I would object to any ongoing seconds of nondisclosure of this particular --1 THE COURT: I understand. 2 And 3 you have made that very clear you want it immediately disclosed. That's not going to 4 5 happen right now. That's not to say that the Court won't order its disclosure at some point. 6 7 And I would hope the State would reconsider its 8 technical legal position, which still strikes me as bonkers. And just as it makes Professor 9 Harcourt suspicious, it makes me suspicious, as 10 any good lawyer would be. 11 So, Professor, I think I have 12 telescoped what I am going to rule. And I will 13 do this in a written decision. But we will 14 15 appoint you as counsel. I will give you 30 days 16 to speak with our death penalty law clerk and have a budgeting conference. And I will order 17 18 the State to produce the record of the state court proceedings. I don't think that will take 19 20 very long. You have already got it, don't you? 21 22 MR. ANDERSON: Shouldn't take 23 long, Your Honor. 24 THE COURT: And we will proceed 25 from there.

30 1 MR. HARCOURT: Thank you, Your I would just like one other thing 2 Honor. 3 mentioned perhaps for the record. There were some statements made by counsel for respondent as 4 5 to the content of that letter, and I don't think that that's evidence as to what the letter says. 6 7 THE COURT: I don't think we 8 have any -- this is not an evidentiary procedure, 9 Professor, so we don't have any evidence before the Court. 10 11 MR. HARCOURT: Thank you. 12 THE COURT: Anything else? 13 MR. PALOMBI: Your Honor, would you -- given that you stated you are going to 14 15 appoint Professor Harcourt, would you like a written order for the Federal Defenders to 16 withdraw? 17 18 THE COURT: You mean a written 19 motion? MR. PALOMBI: A written motion. 20 Or I can give an oral motion right now. 21 THE COURT: File the written 22 23 motion. 24 MR. PALOMBI: File the written 25 motion, Your Honor?
